

FELL 16 FEET TO SIDEWALK

Mrs. Bridget McCoy Met Accidental Death When She Pitched From Second Story Piazza On School Street—Discovered Unconscious by Mrs. Robert Larsen and Died Before Medical Aid Could Reach Her — Medical Examiner Viewed Body

Becoming dizzy and losing her balance, Mrs. Bridget McCoy, 46, pitched headlong from the second story piazza at her home, No. 46 School street, to the sidewalk, a distance of 16 feet, at 1:45 o'clock Monday afternoon, sustaining injuries from which she died a few minutes later. According to the facts learned by Medical Examiner C. C. Glider, Mrs. McCoy had been reading on the piazza and evidently had risen from her chair when she became dizzy and lost her balance.

She was found unconscious on the sidewalk immediately after the fall by Mrs. Robert Larsen, who called for assistance and Dr. Patrick J. Cassidy was hurriedly summoned. When he arrived he found the body lifeless and notified the medical examiner. The body was placed in the morgue pending an inquiry regarding the woman's death and after learning the facts gave Undertaker Hourigan permission to remove the body to his rooms.

Mrs. McCoy was a native of Ireland where she was born fifty years ago, but for a number of years past she had made her home in this city. Her husband, Frank McCoy, died about ten years ago. Mrs. McCoy had kept house for her brother, Patrick Fitzgerald, for some years. She leaves two brothers, Patrick of this city, Thomas of New Haven, and three sisters, Miss Katherine Murley and Miss Annie Fitzgerald. She also leaves her mother, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, who resides in Ireland.

SUBMARINE WAS TAKEN FOR THE BREMEN

U-Boat Off Fishers Island Caused Much Excitement Here.

Rumors that a submarine of foreign appearance had been sighted by the Port Wright observatory, several miles to the south of Fishers Island at 10 o'clock Monday morning aroused intense excitement here. The unknown craft was the German sub-sea merchantman Bremen was the generally accepted theory of the observers. Local and long distance, buzzed with the welcome sensation.

In less than an hour it takes to write the story of the sighting, photographers and representatives of New York and Boston newspapers, who are making their temporary residence in New London, are on the scene of the initial news and pictures of the famous submarine were being taken. One another down State street in a mad scramble for the best view.

But a few minutes had elapsed after the receipt of the first report of the sighting of the submarine before dozens of craft of all descriptions from the modest rowboat to such aristocratic seafarers as Julius Fleischmann's Whitewine had put out in the direction where the mysterious vessel was being observed. Batteries of cameras, motion picture cameras, and other devices were used to secure the first shot at the supposed Bremen.

Substance of the Report.

The substance of the information which was received here from Fishers Island was that the object was a submarine of an unfamiliar type could be seen about 25,000 yards to the south. She was said to be approaching and that she was being observed by the observatory. She was being observed by the observatory. She was being observed by the observatory.
